

Underhill Community Values Mapping

Community Values Mapping is an opportunity for Underhill residents to speak out about what they care about in town.

Participants will be asked to circle areas they care about and describe what they value in those areas (e.g., hunting, recreating, sugaring, wildlife viewing). This is a great opportunity to tell your town officials what is most important to you, and help generate a map of what the community cares about!

If you don't come to represent your values, who will?

You will have 3 opportunities to participate in helping the Town identify those places that hold special meaning to the people of Underhill.

On Tuesday, April 26, from 6-8 PM, we will hold a virtual session facilitated by natural resource experts that will walk you through mapping your areas on your computer at home. Register through Eventbrite using the link below. It is free.

4/26 Community Values Mapping Online using Eventbrite Registration

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/underhill-community-values-mapping-tickets-306475385127>

On Wednesday, April 27 from 6:30-8 we will hold an in-person event at the Town Hall. Register using the link below. It is free.

4/27 Community Values Mapping In Person

<https://forms.gle/b9vFovPKxy1V45ss5>

On Saturday, April 30, from 11-1 we will have a map on an easel at the Deborah Rawson Library where people can add their input at their leisure. No registration needed.

Please join us for one of these exciting events!

Sponsored by the Underhill Natural Resource Inventory and Mapping Committee in collaboration with the Vermont Community Wildlife Program.